Competences

The range of services extends from duplex sonographic examination of the venous system to rule out internal varicose veins and complications such as phlebitis/thrombosis, to minimally invasive and/or classic surgical treatment of varicose veins and purely cosmetic treatment of spider vein reservaricosis.

Dr Marizio Camurati, a specialist in surgery with a specialisation in vein surgery, has extensive experience in minimally invasive, endovenous thermal ablation of truncal veins in particular and is one of the most experienced users of this technique with over 2,000 successfully performed treatments.
