

Dr. med. Tatjana Thum

Specialist in gynaecology and obstetrics, member of the FMH, specialising in surgical gynaecology and obstetrics

---

Languages

DE,EN,FR

Work Experience

|            |                                                                                                  |
|------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| since 2025 | Affiliated Physician, Privatklinik Bethanien, Zurich                                             |
| since 2022 | Core Team Member, Breast Centre Aargau and Site Management, Muri                                 |
| since 2017 | Lead Physician, Women's Clinic, Regionalspital Muri AG – Development of Breast Centre, Muri site |
| 2015–2016  | Senior Registrar in Gynaecology, UniversitätsSpital Zürich                                       |
| 2012–2015  | Senior Registrar in Gynaecology/Obstetrics, Kantonsspital Baden                                  |
| 2008–2012  | Resident in Gynaecology/Obstetrics, Kantonsspital Baden                                          |
| 2006–2008  | Resident in Gynaecology/Obstetrics, Kantonsspital Winterthur, Switzerland                        |
| 2005–2006  | Resident in Visceral and General Surgery, Spital Tiefenau, Bern                                  |
| 2004–2005  | Resident in Orthopaedics/Traumatology, Spital Ziegler, Bern                                      |

Education

|           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|-----------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 2012      | Specialist examination FMH in Gynaecology and Obstetrics with operative subspecialty                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 2003      | Graduation with the Third State Examination                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 2002–2003 | Practical Year <ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. Plastic and Visceral Surgery, Concord Hospital, Sydney, AU</li><li>2. Haematology / Emergency Outpatient Unit, Department of Internal Medicine, Universität Ulm, DE</li><li>3. Gynaecology</li></ol> |
| 2002      | Second State Examination                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 2000      | First State Examination                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 1996      | Start of medical studies, Universität Ulm, Germany                                                                                                                                                                                                           |

Memberships

Ärzteverband Aargau, AAV

Schweizerische Gesellschaft für Senologie, SGS

Deutsche Gesellschaft für Gynäkologie und Geburtshilfe, DGGG

Accreditation

Privatklinik Bethanien

Specialties

Gynaecology

Obstetrics

Contact

Gynhealth GmbH
Höschgasse 50
8008 Zürich

T +41 43 819 37 87
tatjana.thum@hin.ch

Download vCard