Handouts Presentations

After completing her medical studies at the University of Geneva, Dr Willame specialised in gynaecology and obstetrics and wrote her doctoral thesis on "cytomegalovirus screening during pregnancy".

For several years, she worked as a senior registrar, first in Neuchâtel and Nyon, then for a year at the Centre Hospitalier de Mayotte, Europe's largest maternity hospital, and at the Centre Hospitalier Universitaire du Nord de la Réunion, in the high-risk pregnancy centre and endometriosis unit. As head of clinic at these hospitals for 4 years, she consolidated her experience in dealing with complex cases and monitoring pathologies in pregnancy and childbirth. She then spent two years as head of clinic at the HUG in the reproductive medicine and gynaecological endocrinology unit, which also enabled her to develop expertise in this field.

She is now based on the clinic's campus, at Chemin de Beau-Soleil 22, and brings her expertise in obstetrics and gynaecological endocrinology (fertility tests, cycle disorders and menopause).
